ABOUT MakeTimeToSeeTheWorld

Founded in November 2015, MakeTimeToSeeTheWorld is a travel blog which focuses on getting the best out of a destination for time poor travellers who are trying to make the most of their vacation time.

By promoting the highlights and must-do's of a destination, and by sharing her own experiences of everything this amazing world has to offer, Vicki inspires those who work full time to make time for travel.

ABOUT VICKI

I am an 'experience-hunter' on a mission to try everything this world has to offer. Living on the road for 4 years I worked for Walt Disney World in Florida (USA) and ran 5 different hotels in the French, Swiss & Austrian Alps before settling (for now!) in Melbourne Australia. I have visited over 143 cities in 39 countries and am determined to keep my country count above my age!
